Keep your payroll running during a crisis

How do you keep your payroll going strong, no matter what the circumstances?

As the COVID-19 outbreak escalates, businesses will likely have to ask staff to self-isolate or will have to manage absences, so your payroll will most likely have to run with less staff than usual.

How do you ensure your business is still operating at peak productivity and carrying out vital compliance work?

How can you ensure your payroll will run on time if your payroll team is not able to be in the office?

At IRIS, we're here to bring certainty for customers despite the uncertain times. We have a few ways to help ensure your business continues as normal.

Work anywhere, anytime
You need your payroll team to be able to work from anywhere, any time. It's essential that your payroll team can access all your vital IRIS Payroll products, Microsoft software and desktop applications, no matter where they are. We can help you achieve this with IRIS Hosting. All you need is an internet connection and a computer.

Your office PC wherever you are
You want as little interruption as possible – that means ensuring staff have exactly the same system and set up as they are used to in the office. Your payroll team ideally needs to see an identical version of their office PC, meaning their experience is just the same. IRIS can do this for you. With IRIS Hosting, you don't feel like you're using a different computer.

Fully secure payroll data
With remote working, it's even more essential to ensure your employees' payroll data is totally safe and secure. A huge benefit of IRIS Hosting is the added security it provides, you can work safely in the knowledge that your network is being looked after by a company with expertise in cybersecurity.

Protection from cyber crime
Hackers, viruses, ransomware, and other forms of cybercrime are always a concern for businesses. You need to take care that, when your payroll team is set up to work remotely, connections are fully secure and encrypted, so your business remains compliant with strict legislation. IRIS can assist here by offering the highest levels of security and encryption through IRIS Hosting.
