Scaling up without slowing down

Since the last time we spoke to tgfp, the team has expanded from 60 to 72, reflecting steady growth and increasing demand for their services. Through this growth, tgfp continue to rely on IRIS Accountancy Suite as the backbone for their operations. For Ben, its reliability which makes it indispensable. He says, “What I love about Accountancy Suite is that it runs in the background with no issues.”

Having ditched paper-based accounting a few years ago, the firm is fully digital and make use of the integration tools within Accountancy Suite. Tying in My Work Papers, Ben tells us, “The link between IRIS and MWP works really well. The fact that journals can be posted and then appear in other software is really handy.” He mentions that the wider team at tgfp find this feature invaluable, “The team love Accountancy Suite, and I think the integration when transferring data from Xero and other software is very good and definitely makes their lives easier.”

Peace of mind built into IRIS software

As with any accountancy firm, cyber security is a top priority. IRIS delivers peace of mind through robust measures like multi-factor authentication (MFA) and Microsoft Azure-backed infrastructure. While MFA feels like an extra step, Ben acknowledges its importance, “I do feel really secure with IRIS. It might frustrate me sometimes when I have to log back in with MFA, but it’s for good reason. In terms of security, I do feel confident that IRIS does what it needs to do.”

“Having the confidence and peace of mind knowing our company devices are being managed and protected by IRIS is priceless. Multi-factor authentication has given us an extra level of security and the privacy and security controls built into the platform make us feel protected.”

Flexibility made simple

Tgfp's previous case study with IRIS highlighted their appreciation for IRIS Anywhere, a sentiment that remains just as strong today. IRIS Anywhere has transformed tgfp's ability to work flexibly and maintain continuity across locations. Ben says, "Being able to securely work from anywhere, whether it's on a desktop, a laptop, or on our mobile phones is vital in today's digital world. The ability to do so has greatly improved our meetings with clients because we have all the information we need right at our fingertips."

With security features at the core of IRIS Anywhere, such as next-generation anti-virus controls and guarantee data backup integrity, tgfp value the confidence that their data is secure. Ben says, "I wholeheartedly recommend IRIS. We couldn't be a practice without IRIS and the fact that it's so comprehensive and secure with Microsoft Azure makes it a no-brainer."
